LONG RANCH CEMETERY

In 1895 Calvin Floyd Long and Floyd Wesley Pool and families came from Independence, Virginia to Mullen, Nebraska by train. Both families homesteaded north and west of Seneca, Nebraska where the Long Ranch is today. They built a sod house and put down a well. Booker and Glen Long sons of Calvin F. Long, ran the ranch until 1954, when Glen Long died and Booker Long retired. Booker's son, Howard Long ran the ranch until 1978 when it was sold.

On February 28, 1867, Calvin Floyd Long married Mary Elizabeth Kennedy, daughter of Theodore Kennedy a copper miner in Nulin, North Carolina. Calvin and Mary Long had fourteen children all born in Grayson County, Independence, Virginia in the same house. Calvin F. Long died June 12, 1902 in a horse accident.

Addie Long, daughter of Calvin and Mary Long married Enoch Anders. His parents, Nancy Osborn Anders and Stephen Floyd Anders are buried here. Addie and Enoch's son James Lennie Anders married Rachel Wetherston.

James Lee Long, John Glen Long, and Earl Dare Long, all sons of Calvin and Mary Long, are buried in this cemetery.

Earl Dare Long married Mattie Elliott, daughter of Abraham Elliott. Their son, Clifford Long is buried here also. Mattie Long died in 1978 and was buried in Washington.

Candis May Long, daughter of Calvin and Mary Long was married to Floyd W. Pool in Virginia and homesteaded the land with Calvin and Mary Long. Floyd and Candis Pool had four infant sons buried in this cemetery.

It is believed the infant twins, Hugh and Dennis were the first to be buried here in 1899. Two other infant sons were buried in 1904 and 1906.

James Dean Jones died in 1918 of the flu. Robert Lee Jones, a brother to James, also died in 1918. They were cousins of the Long family, sons of Mary Alamedia Long Jones of Independence, Virginia, a sister of Calvin Long.

Charles U. Long, son of Calvin and Mary Long, and his wife Irene Boyer Long are both buried here along with a grand-daughter Baby Mary Long, an infant daughter of Reuben Long.

William Frank Osborn, husband of Minnie Alamedia Long, daughter of Calvin and Mary Long, had been buried at Long Cemetery but has since been moved to Cedarview Cemetery in Mullen, Nebraska. Minnie Long Osborn Howarth is also buried at Cedarview Cemetery.

Floyd Pool was the last to be buried at Long cemetery on October 24, 1954.
